Farming Simulator 19 sells one million copies worldwide in just 10 days

Farm Like Never Before - Sales Like Never Before

Farming Simulator 19, developed by GIANTS Software, has once again confirmed its status as a videogame phenomenon by selling more than one million copies worldwide across digital and retail, only 10 days after the release of the game. Despite a release period shared with multiple blockbuster releases, Farming Simulator has ranked at the top of the software charts in the US, UK, France, Germany, and more. With the ever-increasing quality of the game, a graphical overhaul, new gameplay possibilities, and the addition of John Deere to the roster of vehicles, the franchise has hit new heights in bringing the most complete farming experience ever to a huge audience of both long-time fans and new players.

"It's incredible to see the impact of the team's hard work. Farming Simulator 19 offers so many new opportunities and our players are thrilled about them. Never before has a Farming Simulator game reached the one million mark so quickly and we are proud and happy that so many players join us on this amazing journey." said Christian Amman, CEO of GIANTS Software.

"We're extremely proud to support GIANTS Software on the development of the Farming Simulator franchise. Farming Simulator 19 is simply exceptional, and the sales match that. Giants have demonstrated once more the incredible talent of their studio to always reach a larger number of players. This also confirms the know-how of the Focus Home Interactive teams in bringing franchises to new and bigger audiences, reinforcing the fantastic work done by the studio for each new game." said John Bert, COO of Focus Home Interactive.
