

Board of Directors

Frank Sagnier

Mr Frank Sagnier is an experienced executive and entrepreneur with a successful track record in the video games industry.

He has held senior European and global roles in a number of well-established games developers and publishers such as Acclaim Entertainment, Electronic Arts and Funcom as well as a number of VC backed games start-ups.

In 2014, he joined Codemasters, a British video game developers and publisher, to turn around the company that had been struggling for several years. Within his 7 years tenure as CEO, he operated a strategic repositioning of the business, significantly grew the company top and bottom line, acquired 2 games developers, floated the company on the AIM platform of the London Stock Exchange in 2018 and sold the business to Electronic Arts in February 2021 for over $1.2B. In August 2021 Frank took the role Non-Executive Chairman at nDreams, a British developer of virtual reality games.
